Asset Management is a fascinating field. Education in this field for the Infrastructure and Development planners would assist with ongoing professional development. Would you be able to follow up later with recommended training or certification in this field?

A good example of this type of work that people who live in a condo might be familiar with is the "Reserve Fund Study" whereby money is put away to repair or replace worn out assets.

[11:33 AM] Steve Heuchert

Question - could current replacement cost also incorporate replacing with something better and cheaper eg. a smaller road with more landscaping that doesn't need so much maintenance?

Is quality of replacement taken into account (eg removing 50 mono-culture trees and replacing a diverse trees)

AMP Green infrastructure is in the schedule with Almolah

[11:47 AM] Larissa Mohan

This is all new information for me. But you mentioned a TRCA ecosystem compensation protocol? Is there any plans to share this (or other tools) with municipalities to use in their asset management planning?
